Introduction

This publication covers rough sleepers and the provision of temporary and long-term accommodation for homeless people who present to local authorities for housing support.

Detailed breakdowns, including by local authority, can be found on StatsWales \(Homelessness accommodation provision and rough sleeping\).

This monthly data collection was introduced during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Since its introduction, Welsh Government and local authorities have worked together to improve the data quality by strengthening the data collection guidance. Wales level data is presented from April 2023 onwards, this is due to improvements in data quality from that time.

Data on households applying to local authorities for housing assistance under the Housing Wales Act 2014 \(UK legislation\) are also regularly published by Welsh Government. However, users need to be aware of the differences between this monthly data collection and the collection on statutory homelessness.

Please see the quality and methodology section for further information.

Main points

- There were 1,440 occurrences of homeless people placed into temporary accommodation in August 2024.
- 11,339 individuals were housed in temporary accommodation on 31 August 2024. The most common type of temporary accommodation was bed and breakfast and hotels, housing 3,594 individuals.

Occurrences of people placed into temporary accommodation during the period by local authority and period (StatsWales)

Since April 2023, the number of occurrences of homeless people placed into temporary accommodation has fluctuated, between a high of 1,785 in August 2023 and a low of 1,230 in December 2023. In August 2024 there were 1,440 occurrences of homeless people placed into temporary accommodation, a decrease of 19% from August 2023. Of these, 297 were dependent children aged under 16 (a decrease of 38% from August 2023), and 231 were 16-24 year olds. ^[footnote 2]

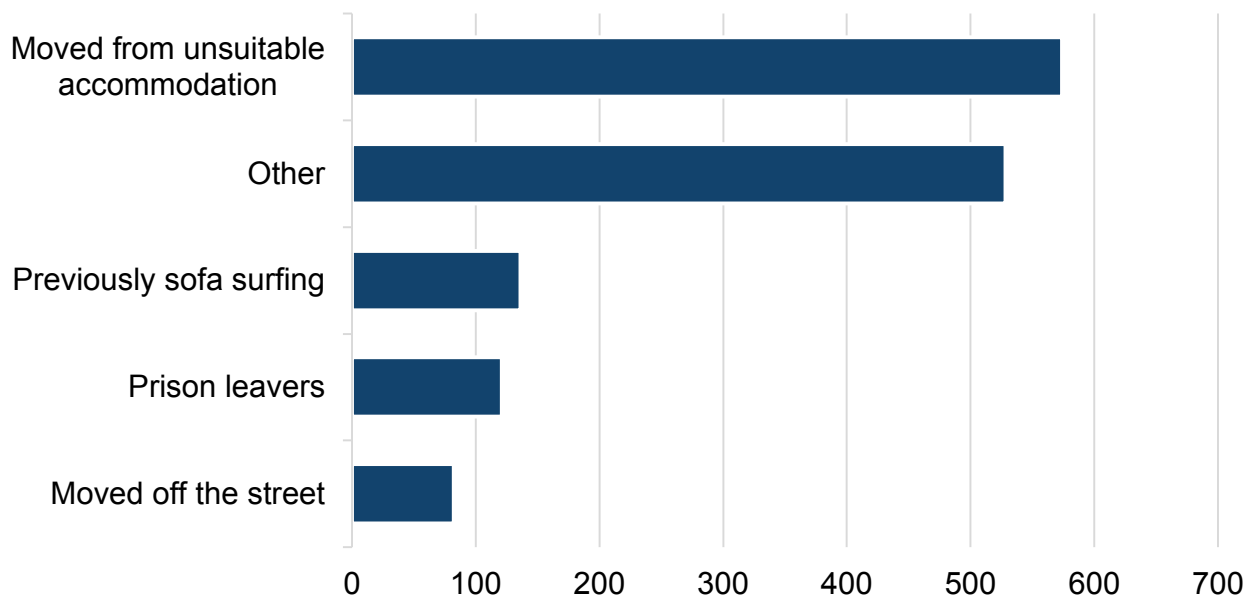

There have been 17,370 placements into temporary accommodation in the last 12 months. Repeat placements are common; 19% of placements into temporary accommodation in August 2024 were of individuals who had previously been placed into temporary accommodation within the last 12 months.

Occurrences of people placed into temporary accommodation during the period by reason for homelessness (StatsWales)

Of the placements into temporary accommodation during August 2024, most occurrences came from ‘moved from unsuitable accommodation’ (573 occurrences), followed by ‘other’ (528 occurrences). These 2 categories account for over 76% of reasons for homelessness. ‘Other’ circumstances refers to reasons other than moved off street, previously sofa surfing, moved from other unsuitable accommodation and prison leavers. Accommodation can be unsuitable for several reasons such as: overcrowding, risk of violence,

Homeless individuals temporarily accommodated at the end of the period by local authority and period (StatsWales)

From April 2023 there was a gradual increase in the number of individuals in temporary accommodation, reaching a peak of 11,721 in February 2024. Whilst numbers have decreased since then they remain higher than they were this time last year.

At 31 August 2024, 11,339 individuals were in temporary accommodation, a 1% increase from 31 August 2023. 2,860 of these were dependent children aged under 16, a decrease of 16% from 31 August 2023. The number of dependant children has been decreasing over recent months, with the numbers dropping below 3,000 for the last four months.

Homeless individuals temporarily accommodated at the end of the period by local authority and accommodation type (StatsWales)

The type of accommodation temporarily housing the most individuals at the end of August 2024 was 'bed and breakfast and hotels' with 32% of individuals, of which 17% were dependent children under 16. Following this, local authority stock, hostels and private sector accommodation are the other most common types of accommodation used across Wales, though this can vary between local authorities (see StatsWales for local authority breakdowns). Under 16s are most commonly housed in local authority stock, bed and breakfast and hotels and private sector accommodation.

As at 31 August 2024, there were an estimated 204 individuals sleeping rough throughout Wales. This is 37 more than the 167 individuals sleeping rough at 31 August 2023. Cardiff (48), Ceredigion (32), Newport (31), Swansea (12) and Pembrokeshire (11) were the local authorities reporting the highest numbers of individuals sleeping rough. All other local authorities reported 10 or fewer individuals sleeping rough, with 3 local authorities reporting zero. [\[footnote 3\]](#)

Footnotes

[2] Disclosure control has been applied to the figures for placements into temporary accommodation and to accompanying data on StatsWales. Figures smaller than 3 have been suppressed and shown as a '*'. All other figures are rounded independently to the nearest 3.

[3] Local authorities are asked to base these estimates on local intelligence, rather than a one-night count.

Quality and methodology information

This monthly data collection was introduced during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic initially as Management Information. These data have now undergone the appropriate quality assurance protocols for Official Statistics. The data may be revised in future therefore the figures for the latest month should be treated as provisional.

Following the introduction of this collection, Welsh Government worked with local authorities to develop this publication and to strengthen the data collection guidance and improve data quality. Due to this development, we saw an improvement in data quality from April 2023, and have therefore started the Wales' data series from this time point. Not all data is available at local authority level from this date. Local authority breakdowns are provided from the point where relevant guidance had been introduced and used by local authorities.

We do not recommend making month-to-month comparisons, as there may be seasonal impacts on homelessness or other reasons for fluctuations. These may become clearer and further commentary possible as data becomes available in subsequent years.

Most statistics in this release refer to number of individuals. However, for placements into temporary accommodation the statistics refer to number of occurrences of placements, as individuals may be placed more than once.

Revisions

Where revisions have occurred since the publication of last month's data, figures will differ from those previously published. Figures that have been revised since previously published are marked with an [r].

This month there have been revisions to the following data:

Newport were unable to provide July 2024 data for the monthly release published in September 2024, therefore, their June 2024 figures were used as estimates. This month they have submitted data for July 2024 and August 2024, therefore, their data, and the Wales totals have been revised.

Flintshire have revised their rough sleeping figures for July 2024.

Statutory homelessness

It is important to note the following differences between this monthly data collection and our publications on statutory homelessness:

- The monthly information relates to the number of individuals experiencing homelessness and being supported by local authorities into emergency accommodation or suitable long-term accommodation.

Our collections on statutory homelessness capture data on number of households, not individuals. That data relates to homelessness as defined by the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 (UK legislation).

Rough sleeping

For this data collection, local authorities are asked to base their estimates on local intelligence, rather than the methodology employed for the previous rough sleeper counts.

In August 2024, Welsh Government made the decision to cease the annual national rough sleeper count with immediate effect. Further details can be found in the Proposals to stop the annual national rough sleeper count: summary of responses.

Due to the different methodologies, it is not appropriate to compare rough sleeping figures from this monthly collection with those from previous annual rough sleeper counts.

Statutory homelessness statistics for the other UK countries

During 2018, in order to address the problem of inconsistency and support users of homelessness statistics, the Government Statistical Service (GSS) Harmonisation Team explored the feasibility of harmonising the definitions of homelessness for official statistics across the UK. In February 2019 it published the Harmonisation of Definitions of Homelessness for UK Official Statistics: A Feasibility Report (GSS). This report concluded that it is not possible in the short term to develop a consistent definition of homelessness for UK official statistics, due to substantive differences in the administrative data systems and legal definitions of homelessness.

The devolved nature of housing and homelessness legislation across the UK means that definitions of homelessness vary. Data collection techniques for homelessness data have been designed to individually reflect the legislation in each country. Operational differences in collecting homelessness information results in differences in homelessness statistics across the four nations and currently there is insufficient guidance on how to compare the related statistics.

Statement of compliance with the Code of Practice for Statistics

All of our statistics are produced and published in accordance with a number of statements and protocols to enhance trustworthiness, quality and value. These are set out in the Welsh Government's Statement of Compliance.

These official statistics demonstrate the standards expected around trustworthiness, quality and public value in the following ways.

Trustworthiness

These statistics are based on monthly returns directly from local authority homelessness services. Figures are checked and queried where necessary by Welsh Government statisticians.

Quality

The published figures provided are compiled by professional analysts using the latest available data and applying methods using their professional judgement and analytical skillset. Statistics published by Welsh Government adhere to the Statistical Quality Management Strategy which supplements the Quality pillar of the Code of Practice for Statistics \(UK Statistics Authority\) and the European Statistical System principles of quality for statistical outputs.

Most of the data included comes from administrative sources which are used in the management of homelessness services. The data is dependent on local authorities maintaining accurate records.

Data for the Welsh Government Homelessness Accommodation Provision and Rough Sleeping Return is collected by Welsh Government directly from local authorities. Local authorities complete data collection forms based on data stored on their respective IT systems and return the completed forms to Welsh Government via its secure web data transfer system.

Validation checks are performed by Welsh Government statisticians and queries referred to local authorities where necessary. The statistical release is then drafted, signed off by senior statisticians and published in line with the statement on confidentiality and data access which is informed by the trustworthiness pillar contained in the Code of Practice for Statistics \(UK Statistics Authority\).

Value

The purpose of the statistical release is to provide evidence for policy development; to allow local authorities to monitor and benchmark their service provision against all other local authorities in Wales; and to inform for the wider public about homelessness provision and rough sleeping across Wales. The monthly statistical release also supports the Welsh Government's long-term plan for homelessness: Homelessness strategy.

The release is as timely as possible whilst maintaining reliability, with generally around a 2-month lag between the data currency and availability. Making this information available monthly provides a regular source of data on the provision of homelessness accommodation and rough sleeping.

Well-being of Future Generations Act (WFG)

The Well-being of Future Generations Act 2015 is about improving the social, economic, environmental and cultural wellbeing of Wales. The Act puts in place seven wellbeing goals for Wales. These are for a more equal, prosperous, resilient, healthier and globally responsible Wales, with cohesive communities and a vibrant culture and thriving Welsh language. Under section (10)(1) of the Act, the Welsh Ministers must (a) publish indicators ("national indicators") that must be applied for the purpose of measuring progress towards the achievement of the wellbeing goals, and (b) lay a copy of the national indicators before Senedd Cymru. Under section 10(8) of the Well-being of Future Generations Act, where the Welsh Ministers revise the national indicators, they must as soon as reasonably practicable (a) publish the indicators as revised and (b) lay a copy of them before the Senedd. These national indicators were laid before the Senedd in 2021. The indicators laid on 14 December 2021 replace the set laid on 16 March 2016.
