Subject: Welsh Language Standards for NHS Blood and Transplant

[hepgorwyd adran 40(2)]

After a long period of silence I'm finally able to update you on Welsh Language Standards for the health sector.

The Regulations are being laid later today (around 2pm) but they do not include NHS Blood and Transplant or any of the other special health authorities. Because the types of services they provide and the way they are provided are different to the other bodies in the Regulations (health boards, trusts and community health councils) it was decided not to include them as it would have required too many amendments/exmptions it would have made the Regs difficult to understand.

We don't have a timetable for making these standards at the moment. I haven't contacted NHS BT to let them know. Are you happy to do this or do you want me to contact them?

Diolch
